ONE BIG "OPERATOR" in Wall Street sent around yesterday for an "opinion on the election." He and others, associated in profitable speculation, believe that certainty of a Coolidge victory would immediately start the beginning of a "twenty-point rise in the market."

AS PRINTED IN Cyrus H. K. Curtis' newspaper, that Hiram Johnson really believes a Coolidge victory in California certain, then "big operators" might as well begin buying. Republican managers, figuring carefully, believe Coolidge now has 25 votes safe, in the electoral college, without California. Those that know New York politics on the Democratic inside say New York is certain for Coolidge, and Davis will run third.

WILLIS PINKSTON, young American sailor, high up on the steel mast of the United States ship Richmond, using his long telescope faithfully, saw a little flare at sea and saved the life of the brave Italian flier Locatelli. Readers who contributed to a fund for Pinkston will be glad to know that the money contributed, $2,561.35, is now deposited to Pinkston's credit in the New York Savings Bank in New York, at his request.

A picture of the young sailor's wrong face, with details of the contributions, will be sent for publication. If the editor chooses, to newspapers that helped raise the fund.

The money was deposited originally in the Banca Commerciale Italiana in New York.

ON THE GRAVE OF Anatole France nothing is written except "Anatole France, 1844-1924." Fortunate and few are men whose names alone are sufficient epitaph. The Persian conqueror could order written on his tomb, "I am Cyrus, oh man," with fewer than ten words about his worth, trusting history to supply details.

Archimedes needed no name at all. On his tomb when Cleo found it in Sicily there was only the figure of a sphere inscribed in a cylinder. Mathematicians would know the meaning of that. Archimedes cared little about others. But a majority of the so-called "great" need full explanation. A few years, then "Anatole France, 1844-1924," will mean nothing. One French name, "Hiram," on the other hand, identifies real genius for a thousand years to come.

THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPALIAN of New York are making an earnest drive to get $150,000 for a great cathedral. Mr. Wickham, much interested, says: "The same methods must be employed as in the Middle Ages." But it was the faith not the methods that built the world's great cathedrals. It was the faith of old painters that created beautiful Madonnas. Faith without works amounts to little. Work without faith, in the religious field, amounts to even less.

AN INSPIRING SIGHT was that great German air boat, shining like polished silver in the sun's light, sailing over New York city early yesterday morning. That sight across the ocean in three days is a tribute to man's genius. A race capable of such achievement, will learn eventually to end war.

SOON European trips by airships will be regular routine, attracting as little attention as an automobile bus line. Airships have come to stay and will do all passenger carrying except for the shorter distances. What a crime against civilization, and the genius of man, if Continued on Page 15, Column 1.

Gov. Smith's Son in Runaway Match

ELOPES AND WEDS GIRL AT FAIR

Bride Is Daughter of "20th Century" Engineer; Church Ceremony Performed Later

New York, Oct. 16 (Universal).—Alfred E. Smith, Jr., son of the Governor, has eloped and married Miss Bertha Gott, daughter of the engineer who drives the New York Central's crack Twentieth Century Limited.

The young couple eloped from New York to Greenwich, Ct., and were married there on Tuesday morning.

Governor Smith and members of his family at first professed to know absolutely nothing of the marriage, but later an announcement was made at the executive chambers in Albany that the couple had been married this morning at the Church of the Holy Cross in this city, by Rev. Father Duffy.

This ceremony is believed to have followed the civil ceremony at Greenwich, Ct.

HER PARENTS GLAD. Mrs. Gott said over the long distance telephone from her home at No. 307 Seymour street, Syracuse, today, that the happy couple had notified her of their marriage. She said:

"I received a special delivery letter telling me that Bertha and Young Alfred were married in Greenwich, Ct., at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, October 14.

"She's only little girl, and he got a mighty fine little wife. Her daddy and I are both overjoyed at their happiness.

"Yes, my husband is a Republican, but he voted for Governor Smith the last time and he will certainly do it again. Bertha is twenty and a graduate of the Syracuse High School.

COURT FOR YEARS. "Bertha and Alfred had known each other for about a year, and first met at the State fair at Syracuse. The wedding was a tremendous surprise to me, although I knew they were very fond of each other, and that he frequently called her on the long distance telephone."

Miss Gott has been stopping at the Hotel Belmont in New York with an uncle and it was there that she reluctantly admitted she was young A's bride.

NAME FROM BAY STATE USED FOR ZR-3

HONORABLE CURTIS D. WILBUR

Secretary of the Navy.

Sir:—Numerous suggestions for a name for the new ZR-3 dirigible will no doubt be made to you immediately.

Under the new aviation department of one-man care will provide 5 cents an hour more than the rate paid other workers, making their hourly rate 50 cents an hour.

Among the rank and file of the workers it was believed that the board would not grant any increase and the men were prepared to accept the old wage. In fact, they were satisfied if the wages were not cut, as demanded by the trustees of the company.

The award was announced at a special meeting of the Boston Streetcarmen's Union in Ford 15th, and the announcement was greeted with cheers.

The new scale is retroactive to July 1.

The differential rates of 25 cents an hour for snow work and 12 1/2 cents for instructive work over the prevailing new scale will continue.

PREDICT RUM SHIPS 'L' FARE RAISE

Public Must Pay or Road Will Operate at Loss Off

Officials Declare

An increase in Boston trolley fares looms as a result of the wage boost granted the "L" motormen and conductors by the wage arbitration committee.

The wage increase granted the 7,000 workers of the "L" adds $500,000 to the annual payroll of the company.

"It is hard to see how the company can assume any more burdens without raising more revenue."

Under the new holiday trade and the trolley fares is more plentiful than at any time since prohibition, rum runners say, although they admit that the motorists which transfer the stuff to shore are having a hard time, with many casualties.

UNDER CLOSE WATCH. Customs men and coast guards are keeping a watch on the rum first day and night and chasing the small craft that go putting out to sea.

There are both schooners and big steamers in the new Rum Row, which is two miles long.

All the ships are heavily armed and low in the water. The rum armada seems to be organized along naval lines and to be directed by a single mind.

DOZENS OF LIQUOR-LADEN CRAFT DOING BUSINESS OFF NORTH SHORE

Loaded to the deck rails with holiday liquor for the Massachusetts trade, dozens of big rum ships are waiting for customers beyond the twelve-mile limit, it was learned today.

Eleven schooners and steamers are riding at anchor fifteen miles off Cape Cod, the being a new miles long.

All other points along the coast ships mysteriously appear late at night, are boarded by men from small motorboats, and mysteriously disappear in the morning.

Longer for the holiday trade and the trolley fares is more plentiful than at any time since prohibition, rum runners say, although they admit that the motorists which transfer the stuff to shore are having a hard time, with many casualties.

UNDER CLOSE WATCH. Customs men and coast guards are keeping a watch on the rum first day and night and chasing the small craft that go putting out to sea.

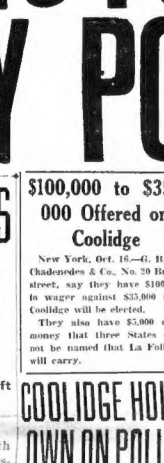

There are both schooners and big steamers in the new Rum Row, which is two miles long.

All the ships are heavily armed and low in the water. The rum armada seems to be organized along naval lines and to be directed by a single mind.

Usually there are only two or three schooners at a time beyond the twelve-mile limit. Once there were twenty in the row at one time, but that was nearly three years ago.

The alertness of the coast guards and customs men is interfering with the business of the rum ships, the motorboat. Data being one of the first to fall into their hands.

$100,000 to $35,000 Offered on Coolidge

COOLIDGE HOLDS OWN ON POLL IN G.O.P. CENTRES

The twentieth day of the straw vote in New England must be written as most decidedly a Coolidge day.

Senator La Follette did fairly well in Franklin, N. H., and on one of the busy streets of Providence the Progressive leader received exactly the same number of votes as went to John W. Davis.

The Third Party candidate needed the batches of votes he annexed in these two New England towns. Continued on Page 8, Column 2.

FRANCE WANTS U. S. LOAN TO BE ON HER OWN TERMS

Paris, Oct. 16. (A.P.)—A conference will be held on Saturday between J. P. Morgan, Premier Herriot, and Finance Minister Clementel in connection with the raising of a French loan in the United States.

The loan is intended, Clementel explains, to improve the French currency but it will be concluded by the government only if the conference which are about to be held show that the terms of such a loan would be favorable to France.

Pushed From Running Board. Officers Open Fire on Car Without Lights

Pushed from the running board of an automobile they were trying to halt, two Somerset police officers opened fire on its occupants today, wounding one.

He is Frederick Allen, 23 years old, of No. 15 story street, Cambridge. Allen was shot through the back, he is at Cambridge City Hospital and probably will die.

James O. Griffin, eighteen years old, of No. 16A Elm street, Cambridge, was arrested charged with being the driver of the machine and operating it without a license and without lights.

He was fined $10 in Somerville court, Griffin denied pushing the policeman off the running board. He said he refused to stop at their challenge because the night was dark and he thought he was being pursued by bandits.

Allen, in an interval of consciousness, said he went into the neighborhood in which he was shot to buy liquor.

AUTO VANISHES. Reserve Officers Edmund Pflum and Francis Begley were the policemen who first saw the automobile at Bedford and South streets, Somerville, they say. When they tried to question its occupants it was driven off at high speed in the direction of Somerville avenue.

District Attorney Reading of Middlesex said with finality today that we are concerned the case is closed. "He was killed by alcohol poisoning, probably by a cocktail. 'REBEL' VICTIM' HAD PLANNED TO WE BROTHER OF HER CHUM

ROMANCE OFF; TRIED TO BE TO BE

"Widower" in Hanley Girl Death Case Blamed for Her Jilting

By HENRY FORD.

Elizabeth Hanley, the Brookline nurse found dead under mysterious circumstances on the porch of the administration building in Filmland, Medford, was engaged to marry the brother of Mrs. Beale Cronin, her chum, who lives at No. 101 Decatur street, Charlestown.

The marriage was to have occurred last January, but plans were suddenly abandoned and Mrs. Hanley was so upset she attempted suicide by taking heroin in the Penway.

She told the sister of her fiancé, who was the first to identify her at City Hospital, where she was later as "Ruth Dumas," that she wanted to die. She said she was heart broken over her shattered romance.

HELD NOTE TO "HAROLD"

When found in the Penway she held a note in her hand. It was addressed "Harold." The police turned this note to her when she was revived at City Hospital and the contents never were made public.

But Mrs. Cronin declared to Chief of Police John F. Welch of Medford that the "Harold" mentioned in the note was not her brother but a well-dressed widower thirty years old who owned an automobile and whose acquaintance Elizabeth had made while she and Mrs. Cronin were employed as waitresses in Rice's Cafe in Everett, not far from the Charlestown line.

Mrs. Cronin declined to give her brother's name or to tell who broke his troth with the young nurse. It is thought by intimates, however, that the dashing widower was the cause.

OFTEN OUT WITH HIM.

Elizabeth Hanley is known to have gone motoring with "Harold" and to the theatre.

Facts in possession of the police prove that Miss Hanley was in the company of a man on the night she met her death, but there seems to be no way to determine whether she had left a night revel to go by trolley to the lonely spot where she was found, or whether her companion in a drinking bout, noticing her erratic condition, left her and fled in an automobile.

FOUR ARRANGED.

The police think it a case of suicide or accidental poisoning from hard liquor. So do the physicians who performed the autopsy.

MEDICAL EXAMINER. Thomas L. Durell reported death due to alcohol. He would not commit himself as to whether the case was one of suicide. It is known he asked Assistant District Attorney Bishop if a chemical analysis of the girl's stomach was desired, and Mr. Bishop as a result of Dr. Durell's conviction as to alcoholism being the cause of death said such an analysis was unnecessary.

FOUL PLAY SUGGESTED.

That meant that the State and local authorities were satisfied there was no foul play in the affair.

It is thought possible the girl may have been drinking with a companion and been accidentally poisoned by mouthfuls of wood alcohol. But it appears certain she would not go to such a spot so far from her home to commit suicide and drink only hard liquor.

If she planned suicide, it is held, she must have first taken some drug, with the use of which she was familiar as a nurse.

JOHN J. FERRIS, HURT PLAYING GOLF, IS DEAD

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 16.—John J. Ferris, 48 years old, president of the Jersey City Board of Education, and member of the firm of Sullivan, Libbey and Ferris Company, builders of the Central New Jersey railroad bridge over the Passaic river at Perth Amboy, died today. He had suffered a stroke which attending physicians declared resulted from a twisted vertebrae received this summer when he dove at a golf ball on the Deal, N. J., course and wrenched his back.

POISON LIQUOR CHAPMAN IN BIG CLAIMS ONE COUNTERFEIT MONEY PLOT

Springfield, Oct. 16.—With Gerald Chapman, escaped bandit and killed, as the prime mover, an amazing conspiracy to flood the United States with counterfeit currency that would baffles detection has been uncovered here.

A residence in a quiet section in New Britain, Hadley Center was purchased some time ago by Chapman and was to have been the headquarters for the daring scheme.

Chapman, with a price of thousand on his head and sought in connection with two murders committed within the past few days, had his counterfeiting plans well under way when he ran afoul of the police in the New Britain store robbery in which he killed an officer.

ROBBERY FOR FUNDS.

The house formerly occupied by the Rev. Arthur W. Hadley of the Second Congregational Church of Pawtucket, R. I., was the residence purchased by Chapman. After completing the deal for the property, the escaped lawyer boldly visited Holyoke and South Hadley, transacting business in stores where his picture was posted together with the reward offered for his capture.

It is believed the purchase of the house and other activities used up all the available funds of Chapman and that he planned the robbery at New Britain to furnish himself with funds to carry on the counterfeiting plot. The killing of the police officer, when Chapman was discovered in the midst of the robbery, upset the entire plan.

MOST DESPERATE CRIMINAL.

With the State Constabulary of Pennsylvania joining in the search for Chapman as a result of the murder of a member of the force following the robbery of a bank at Abbottstown, Pa., more than a dozen powerful agencies are combing the country for the fugitive.

Chapman is regarded as the most desperate criminal at large in this country today, and it is believed unlikely that he will ever be taken alive. Dispatches from Harrisburg, Pa., have been received reporting that the State trooper there.

Chapman Trained by Penn. State Police

Pittsburgh, Oct. 16 (U.N.B.)—State police from the Pennsylvania barracks today were training an automobile believed to have been driven by Chapman in the training of the State trooper and bank robber, when last seen by a garage man at East Pittsburgh early today.

According to the garage attendant, a man answering Chapman's description stopped at the garage, big left hurriedly when employees attempted to detain him.

YACHT SEIZED WITH 400 CASES OF SCOTCH

New London, Oct. 16.—Customs officers, taking on a cargo of 400 cases of Scotch and 6,000 gallons of alcohol from the steamer Capello of Antwerp, in run now, the yacht Marguerite was captured by the coast guard destroyer Joseph off Montauk Point and Lough in here today. Five men were arrested.

ROOSEVELT WOMAN LABOR CLUB SPLITS OVER COOK

Barnes Assails President Lawrence and Demands Reconsideration of Vote

Internal discussion, threatening the life of the Roosevelt Club, has broken out as a result of an endorsement of the candidacy of State Auditor Almon B. Cook by the club's executive committee.

Clarence A. Barnes, a club member and chairman of the signature committee working for the election of Strabo V. Claggett, Cook's Democratic opponent, charges that when the vote was taken but seven of the twenty-two members of the committee were present.

In a letter to President J. S. Lawrence he demands that a meeting of the whole club membership be called so that the action of the seven members may be repudiated.

Unless this is done he threatens to resign and take with him many other club members.

He also assails Lawrence for his public stand in favor of Cook, saying: "I am surprised that a man of your supposed standing in the community, the nephew of a bishop should pursue such a course and openly and proudly. You have apparently not only forgotten yourself, but also your duty to the club of which you are president, and also your next of kin."

Mrs. Mary Gordon Thompson of Quincy, pioneer woman labor organizer and woman suffrage worker, has been appointed field director of the woman's division, La Follette-Whelan campaign in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Thompson, who is well known in labor circles in this State, says that her fourteen-year-old daughter explains the reason why La Follette will get her vote.

"Mr. La Follette is the only presidential candidate who came out for the Child Labor amendment," said Mrs. Thompson. "I have been working in the textile mills since I was eleven years old, and I know from my own experience what child labor does to the future citizens of this country."

Mrs. Thompson was the only woman in Federal special agent connected with the Bureau of Education and Information in Washington during the war.

She has been organizer for the National Women's Trade Union League of America, the Massachusetts Suffrage League, the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, and the Non-Partisan Association of the League of Nations of Massachusetts.

PONZI TRUSTEE ORDERED TO DROP SUITS

Money Withdrawn by Investors Prior to August 2, 1920, Not Recoverable

Hundreds of thousands of dollars were lost to Ponzi investors today when Judge James M. Morton of the Federal Court in a decision pronounced in by Judge Eliza Brewster and George W. Anderson, dismissed virtually every case of Ponzi investors who drew their money prior to August 2, 1920.

The cases were dismissed, regardless of whether the investors had profited or not through their investment.

In the decision Henry V. Cunningham, Ponzi trustee, who brought the cases against the withdrawing investors through Attorney Martin W. W. W. is instructed to discontinue prosecution and to institute no new proceedings, unless unusual circumstances exist in any case tending to effect the trustee's rights.

The one-hundred of them were brought in an attempt to have returned to the Ponzi assets all money drawn out by investors prior to August 2, when the public was informed of Ponzi's insolvency. From the money thus recovered the trustee intended to pay further dividends to losing investors who lost their money in.

FEELING BITTER OVER BRITISH ELECTION

Meetings Broken Up as Labor and Anti-Labor Issues Are Raised

LONDON, Oct. 16 (L.N.S.).—Blue-men over the approaching election is increasing daily and manifesting itself in demonstrations at campaign meetings.

Sir Robert Gower, Tory candidate at Hackney, was forced to call off a meeting and was escorted from the hall under guard. Several Tory meetings at Battersea have been broken up.

Twenty were injured, three seriously, when a West End end at tacked Harry Midgley, Laborite candidate, and hurled stones until police dispersed the rioters. It is feared that Midgley was seriously injured.

The religious issue has been brought into the campaign by Lord Farnborough's London Daily Become, which recounts at great length the "Bible persecution of Catholic priests," and declares that as a result Catholics will not support Labor candidates.

Hallowe'en Dance for Alice Lowell and Isabel Shaw to Be Outstanding Bad Function of Season

By BETTY ALDEN.

THE telephone wails out bland injunctions which few seem able to resist these days, and wise is the hostess who sees that there is plenty of wax on the ballroom floor.

But tactful is the hostess who sees not only to the plethora of wax, but also that there be some form of entertainment for the small number of the older guests who do not dance.

Which, by the way, does not signify in the least that all members of the older generation spurn Turp-sichers. I've seen many a white-haired dowager who would no more think of "sitting it out" than would her debutante granddaughter.

I recall that two winters ago Mrs.
Guy Lowell gave a large presentation ball in honor of her niece, Miss Marianna Lowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lowell. The affair took place at the Copley-Plaza, where the hostess had reserved the State suite as a bridge room for the older guests.

Miss Marianna's sister, Miss Alice
Lowell, is a debutante of this session, and on Hallowe'en night, Mr. and Mrs. T. Mott Shaw are giving a dance for her and their daughter, Miss Isabel Shaw.

Both the Shaws and Mr. and Mrs.
Frederick Lowell (Isabel Shaw) make their home at "Nine Acres Corner" in Concord and the dance will have for its setting the Concord Country Club.

Unfortunately for the bad contingent and their cavaliers the affair is to be a very small one. Distinctly, and the fact that it takes place out-of-town, this double presentation is really an outstanding bad function of the season.

Both girls were elected to membership in the Junior League early this month, and few debutantes of the season may boast more notable connections.

Double presentations, by the way,

I'll warrant that the pews of stand

U. S. TO DECIDE FATE OF UNLUCKY $2 BILL

Washington, Oct. 16.—Sharp difference has arisen over whether the traditionally unlucky $2 bill shall be discontinued by the Treasury.

There is a demand in the South that the government adhere to its previous intention to wipe it out, but New England manufacturers are arguing that it be retained for payroll purposes.

The new $5 bills have been issued Lincoln's portrait, which will appear only on $5 notes in the future is on the face of the note. The border is much darker and heavier, designed to prevent counterfeiting.

On the reverse are the great seal of the Treasury and another heavy border.
The designation of the amount is in each corner on both sides.

MAJESTIC WILL PUT ON MIDNIGHT SHOW

The bright lights of the Majestic will burn late this evening, for a midnight performance is announced at the Majestic theatre, where Marie Mills and an all-star company are presenting the fast moving musical revue called "Dial to Broadway."

No engagement of a colored show would be considered complete without its regular weekly midnight presentation and the first by Marie Mills and her company will take place tonight. Professional folk from other theatres will attend in force. The curtain will rise at 11:45 p. m.

SULPHUR CLEARS SKIN RIGHT UP

Apply Menthos-Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthos-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvements quickly show. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Menthos-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

EXTRA POLICE AFTER NORTH SHORE THEFT

Authorities Exerting Every Effort to Follow International Gem Thieves

North Shore homes in the vicinity of the Bayard Tuckerman residence in Topsham where the Prince of Wales is to be a guest shortly, are being accorded extra police protection against the threat of international gem robbers who have been officially receiving the royal visitor during his trip to the United States.

One successful robbery was committed when rings and other jewelry valued at $1,000 were stolen from the mansion of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lawrence, relatives and neighbors of the Tuckermans, it was revealed today.

The police have warned all residents of the North Shore to take extra precautions against robbery at this time.

A score of private detectives representing insurance companies are already on the ground assisting the local police.

Mrs. Lawrence's wedding ring was among the articles taken by the burglars. She was described as "J. R. L. to E. A." She was Miss Emma Augusta before her marriage to John S. Lawrence.

GOVERNOR SMITH'S JURY INDICTS POLICE HEAD

MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Chief of Police Will F. Phillips of Nassau County was indicted today for obstructing justice by an extraordinary Grand Jury convened at the order of Governor Smith to investigate county conditions.

MARGARET QUINN.

Maye and Mrs. Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret to Francis J. Roche, member of the Cambridge School Committee.

Miss Quinn is a graduate of the Cambridge schools and a member of the Cecilia Guild of Boston.

Mr. Roche, who is an attorney, is a graduate of Boston College and Harvard Law School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roche of Cambridge. During the war he served as a lieutenant in the Naval Aviation Corps at Norfolk.

BRIDE KIDNAPED BY LAWRENCE JOKERS

LAWRENCE, Oct. 16.—Bride from her bridegroom as they were about to depart on their honeymoon, a pretty French Canadian girl was carried screaming through the streets of this city and Methuen while excited pedestrians made futile efforts to halt the car in which she was held a prisoner, and sent in hurry call to the police.

Later the authors of the cruel practical joke restored her to her nervous young husband and Methuen's latest kidnapping sensation was over.

She was held for only an hour or two, when she returned, relatives neglected to inform the police that the affair was a joke.

As a result, search for the kidnapers was continued and the mystery caused a tremendous amount of excitement in Methuen, where kidnapings have been unusually frequent in the last year or two.

It was not until a woman guest at the wedding called the police and explained the matter that the police discontinued the search. No charges will be pressed against the jokers.

COURT REBUKES STUDENT HIT BY TRAINER

Judge Warns Needham Football Player to Treat the Coach With Respect

Derek L. Fanning, trainer and coach, was in Needham district court today charged with assault and battery on Alfred Gross, captain of the Needham High School football team.

Alfred Fanning is a trainer at Needham High School. About twenty-five students from the two schools were court today, four of them as witnesses.

Fanning was accused of striking young Gross over the head with a cane. After listening to the testimony, Judge Edward Hubbard continued the case until April 18, 1925.

Then he reprimanded Gross, telling him that Fanning was sick, an elderly man, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, and should be treated with respect.

Yearly Sickness Insurance Is Put at $720,000,000

The cost of sickness insurance is estimated by the National Industrial Conference Board to be at least 720 million dollars a year.

This represents an outlay of $7 for every man, woman and child in the country. The reduction of this sum, says the board, can best be obtained by a closer attention to hygiene in the home and by physical examination of industrial workers.

Many John Edward Hubbard continued the case until April 18, 1925.

Then he reprimanded Gross, telling him that Fanning was sick, an elderly man, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, and should be treated with respect.

Living Models Will Demonstrate Madame X Reducing Girdles

At The Shepard Stores

IN the seclusion of a large room on the fourth floor, off the Luggage Store (specially prepared for this demonstration), Mrs. Pearl Jardine, Lecturer, will give a talk on the wonders of Madame X Reducing Girdles.

1. The value of slenderness.
2. Methods of reduction.
3. The Madame X Girdle.
4. Results to be expected.
5. Demonstration on model of correct and incorrect fitting and wearing.
6. Instruction on proper care of Madame X Reducing Girdles.

Mrs. Jardine is a special representative sent to The Shepard Stores by the discoverers of this reducing corset to tell of its wonderful reducing qualities—of its comfort and grace. You are cordially invited to hear her.

MARION DAVIES in Yolanda

Marion Davies gives the greatest performance of her career in "Yolanda." She even surpasses her memorable performance as Pat O'Day in "Little Old New York" and Mary Tudor in "When Knighthood Was in Flower." A sweet and demure Yolanda, she is also a vivid, magnetic figure that holds your interest tensely from first to last.

Yolanda is a thrilling panorama; its action holds you breathless, its characters fascinate you.

Yolanda—"the picture of the century."

RED WING GIVES HIS SQUAW THE MINNE-HA-HA

Takes Too Much Firewater and "Tomahawks" Her, She Tells Lynn Police

By the waters dead and salty, by the river known as Saguenay on the Lynn side, where they breed and nest and fight, but always playful, dwells a noble chieftain, Red Wing, man of men, a redskin noble who within a moment's anger, waded a tomahawk about him, nooked his spouse a two-bow walloping, oh well, it ain't gonna hurt no more.

It seems that Morning Star, squaw of the full-blooded Indian Chief Red Wing, hasn't got to the point of civilization where she tells all she knows in a few words, as you might say, and might out to public.

Chief Red Wing.

When squaw, Morning Star, told Lynn police he beat her with a tomahawk.

Chief Red Wing, who is a native of the Lynn side, is a man of many words, and he is a man of many words.

Chief Red Wing belongs to the improved order of Red Men, which anybody knows is mostly white.

Chief Red Wing is descended from a sturdy line of ancestors who in the time of the great war, not only fought, but also were in the front of the battle.

SILENT OVERS; SEEKS CASH, NOT TALK

Wife Tells How She and Her Husband Carry on "Foud"

Silence will reign in the first floor apartment at No. 81 Humboldt street, Barbours.

The man and the wife, who have lived together nine years without so much as a word passing between them, must continue their travesty of married life in unbroken silence.

The man will continue to leave $11 each week on the top chest of the dresser which is empty or half full.

The woman must continue playing her part by taking $11 each week for her own food and for each child.

A dramatic force you will say. Perhaps it is. But there is something of tragedy beneath it.

NINE YEARS SILENCE.

The world heard the story of Morris Marks and his wife, Annie, for the first time when Mrs. Marks brought suit to have the court order her husband to pay her $25 a week.

The world learned for the first time that it was possible for a man and his wife to occupy the same house for nine years without speaking.

The judge decided that because the Marks were technically living together he could not order Morris Marks to pay his wife the amount she desired. Mrs. Marks wanted to end the hell, to bring down the final curtain by getting out, living alone in a room by herself. She could not do it on $11 a week. So she asked for $25. And because the court decided against her the play goes on.

COMPATIVELY RICH.

Morris Marks owns property in Allston and Brighton and on Walnut street, Roxbury. He is a really successful operator of some industries, earning several thousand dollars a year.

But $11 will continue to be the amount he must pay on the top chest for Mrs. Marks.

They are not a young couple. They are grandparents. Twenty-four years of their thirty-three of married life have been spent as the married lives of other people are spent. They had children, three girls, all of them married. They had lots of company.

Too much, says Mrs. Marks, because it was the too frequent company of her relatives which first led to the estrangement between them. They quarreled often.

NO MORE QUARRELS.

But they have not quarreled lately. There came a day nine years ago when they decided not to quarrel with each other. Who knows what came, serious or foolish, lay in the fact that suddenly they simply have had the same thing and forgotten it within twenty-four hours.

Not so Morris Marks and his wife. The breach between them widened with the passing of time. The more ill, if it was such, deepened the proportions of a mountain. Each was determined not to be the first to speak. Each is so determined today.

Didn't the occasion ever arise when you thought you must speak to your husband during these nine years?" Mrs. Marks was asked.

"Through third person," " seldom," she replied. "One of our daughters lived with us until two years ago. If I felt I must convey a message to Morris, I gave it to her. She gave it to him. He did the same when he had anything to say."

Once in a while nowadays there is a note left for one by the other. They sleep in separate rooms, not at different times. Each gets his or her own meals.

"But who tells you your husband's room?" Who makes his bed?" the reporter asked Mrs. Marks.

"I will do that," she replied with a smile.

OCCASIONAL CALLERS.

"And haven't you ever this period of years, ever had people call on both of you?"

"Several times."

"And haven't you spoken on these occasions? Haven't you tried to hide the trouble?"

"We have not spoken then nor at any other time," came her answer.

Mrs. Marks is a little woman, dark-haired, dark-eyed, with still a pleasant smile despite her urbanity. She was not clothed in the height of fashion when she went to see her attorney, Alfred H. Church, in the Tremont building today.

On $11 a week it is difficult to have all the latest styles.

WOMAN DETERMINED.

Mrs. Marks is still determined to force her husband to pay her more. For her daughter's sake she has been silent all these years. She can stand it no longer, she feels because Mr. Church's wife is still unable to appear for her when her case was called, she has hopes of reversing the "discreet" without prejudice" decision.

In the meantime silence still rules the lower apartment at No. 81 Humboldt street, a silence broken only by the creaking and groaning of the husband and wife. No words are spoken. None will be.

YALE LAW SENIORS WILL CONDUCT FREE CLINIC

New Haven, Ct., Oct. 16.—Yale Law School seniors will conduct a legal dispensary to hear grievances of persons without funds to obtain legal advice, it was announced today.

City Attorney Sherman B. Wattaker suggested the idea, and will supervise the clinic. There will be no attempt to adjust grievances. The students will simply hear them and give advice. Miss Dorothy Lud-

Now Flappers Are Getting Lip Stick Indigestion!

Leipzig, Germany, Oct. 16.—Lip stick indigestion has developed among young women who use rouge too freely, according to physicians. Many of the cosmetics, particularly the cheaper kinds, contain harmful ingredients, assert the doctors, which cause complications when they come in contact with food.

Victims of lip stick attacks always maintain that their lips have been caused by food or drink, and are not inclined to change their habits unless they have suffered three or four severe seizures.

Ingestion of this city, a law school next week will conduct the first clinic next week.

BABE IN ARMS, GIRL BANDIT FACES JURY

Philadelphia Flapper Accused of Complicity in Murder of Storekeeper

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—The jury for the trial of Violet Dickerson, nineteen-year-old "flapper" bandit charged with first degree murder in the killing of Louis Hirsch during a holdup in his store, was completed after the examination of 150 witnesses.

The girl defendant again was permitted to bring her baby, born in prison, to City Hall while she faced the court. At the conclusion of the long session she said the child was returned to prison. Her father, Milton D. Dickerson of Salisbury, Md., and her stepmother, Mrs. Martha Frey, sat near.

She is accused jointly with Charles Offinger of shooting Hirsch. Offinger was convicted of first degree murder and the community with him to call the same witnesses who testified against him. It is expected Miss Dickerson will take the stand in her own behalf.

Boston University Girls Feed 500 Daily at College in Efficient Manner
Among Boston University's choicest gifts to the world is a 15 and 10-cent cafeteria that pays.

Franklin Jordan, a student in the evening division of the College of Business Administration, is the manager. He is probably the youngest cafeteria manager in Boston. He certainly is one of the most successful.

CO-EDS ASSIST.
Misses Mary A. Dolan and Elizabeth Beas, co-eds, are his lieutenants and assistants. Jordan says he picked them because of their efficiency, not because their hair was curly, and the two co-eds are among the prettiest girls in the university. They do say that fact has not hurt Manager Jordan's trade a bit with the masculine undergraduates.

On an average, 500 persons lunch daily at the unpretentious little eatery. At noon 300 are fed in about forty minutes.

Professors as well as students use the cafeteria, although there are no chairs. They say the excellence of the food makes the trifling inconvenience of no moment.

Less than two years ago the cafeteria was a private enterprise, conducted by a janitor and his wife, and it was on the verge of failure. Jordan, who had established a reputation for real business sense, was selected for manager by the general manager of all university supply shops.

The two rooms comprising the cafeteria were remodelled and redecorated.

TRADE COMES IN.
Not the least among the decorations, as has been hinted, were the two fair co-eds who were put behind the counter. And trade began to come in.

The cafeteria handles coffee and sandwiches. Tea comes in the high set price for anything in stock. The food is wholesome and well prepared and young Jordan is thinking seriously of becoming a restaurant man when he finishes his course.

STUDENT TO BE QUESTIONED IN GIRL'S DEATH

Edith MacElroy Suicide by Gas in Cambridge Boarding House

Cambridge police are planning to question Harvey Chase, Suffolk law student of No. 114 Arlington street, Chelsea, to see what he knows of Edith MacElroy, factory girl, who committed suicide while clinging to the student's photograph.

The girl, who was nineteen years old, ended her life at the home of Mrs. Ernest C. MacElroy of No. 124 Franklin street, Cambridge, where she had boarded for two weeks.

The girl was found in a room which she had in her month after wrapping a shawl about her head.

The name of the student was drawn into the case by a note which bore with a lead pencil, found by the girl's body.

The note said: "I am sorry because I am committing suicide. I am in love with Harvey Chase and he does not return my love. I can't live without him. Tell him good-bye for me." The note was signed "Edith."

The body was found by the girl's father and brother. Leland, who lived with her.

According to Mrs. MacElroy, the law student, who was the father of the girl, had frequently during the two weeks she lived at the MacElroy's.

THE athletic centre of these two great universities, Harvard and Yale, returned to New England last night starting the big struggle which will mark the right of way from now on in the November series of the great game.

This is going to be the latest year the grid sport has ever had. Though that's some prediction. It is interest in the pug-nutty element is infernal now. Everything else is more or less attracted and the crowd that will watch the young men smack each other from here on will be limited only by the capacities of the playing pastures.

THREE of those large and important games have Boston for the scene for the rapidly approaching Saturday—the Harvard-Holy Cross game at the Stadium, the Boston College-Syracuse collision in New York State, the Yale-Cornell game at the Bowl. Any one of them would be the occasion for unbridled enthusiasm and speculation. The three on the same day gives the fans all the varied emotions and drama of a big day at a sporting circus.

HARVARD and the Worcester staff will pick the standard of the title. It will be quite a gridiron engagement, beyond any doubt. For the past three years the Purple has been beaten by the Crimson, by the closest possible margin. A single touchdown gave the Harvard the glory last year, when Holy Cross seemed about to snatch it away. The Purple won for Cambridge the two preceding seasons. The Harvard athletes have had great teams, but they have never been able to overcome the psychology of the Stadium. They have beaten themselves, much as anything.

Now if the O'Connell pupils have been through the Harvard test, before the eleven should be able to cut loose and show its stuff here Saturday. If it can do that, the Purple produces some of the fire and heat that built it into the Harvard. Now, later on, the Crimson is large and serious after

Big Three Looks Weak in Early Gridiron Games

It is a far different game today than it was before the first year was introduced. Many critics think the new style of play is a step to the old push and pull game, but helped to make the game more universally loved because of the manliness and courage demonstrated.

RADIO 'TRUST' ATTACKED BY LA FOLLETTE

Declares Monopoly in Control of the American Wireless Industry

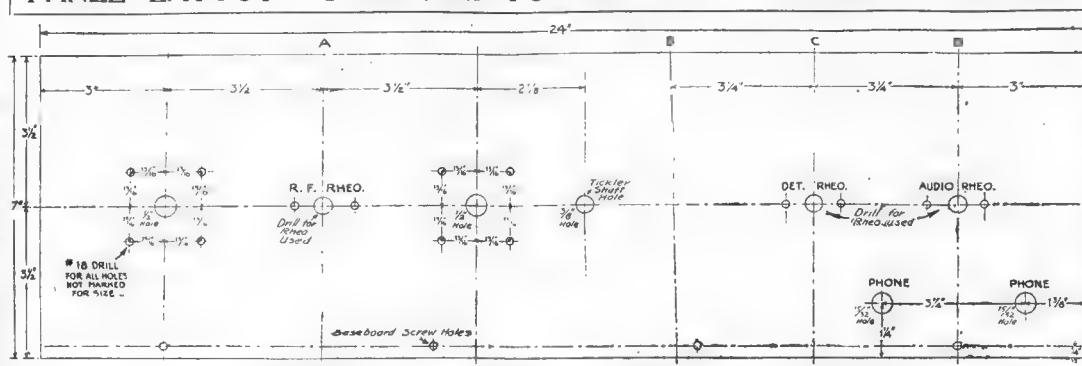

By KENNETH CLARK

Aboard La Follette's special train to Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 15, Sen. La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, declared a full-scale attack on the radio industry, which he charged was a monopoly in the hands of a few men.

Underlining his attack on the radio industry, La Follette, who is on his way to Minneapolis to attend the annual convention of the National Radio Regulators Association, declared that the radio industry was a monopoly in the hands of a few men.

The Progressive president said that he would speak in Minneapolis to a group of about 500 people, who he said would be the "radio industry." He said that he would speak in Minneapolis to a group of about 500 people, who he said would be the "radio industry."

MISS EDITH DAY

After a New York run of sixty-two weeks, "Edith Day," Arthur Hammerstein's musical comedy hit, featuring Edith Day, has come to Boston with the entire New York cast.

Arrangements have been made by Station WNAC, the Shepard Store, to broadcast this show at 10 o'clock.

Edith Day, as emphasized by a reviewer, is delightful—the eye, the ear and the funniness. She is a prima donna with a sense of humor.

SOLITELY CORRECT according to dimensions given. This particularly applies to the mounting of the National Condenser. You can get all holes directly on the panel itself. Mark holes to fit rheostat and keep their centers in the same position. The four holes shown at the bottom of the panel are for base board mounting screws.

For the base board attach a piece of mahogany seven by twenty-three by one-eighth or five-eighths inch. For base board mounting of instruments only the center lines of the sockets are shown by a B.C.D. on panel layout. The rest of the base board layout will be shown by means of photographs.

With the data given you today you can locate every part of the set and drill it. These will be on the market soon already drilled. Tomorrow we will print the book of the four-tube receiver with directions for assembling.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

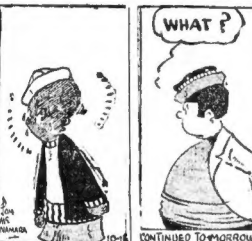

By Mark Stuyvesant
"YOU can cross Africa from East to West or from North to South at the present time with your hands in your pockets." So declared a great South African statesman a few years ago, to convince Englishmen that Africa is no longer the dark, unknown continent. To Dr. David Livingstone, the Scottish missionary, more than to any other one man belongs the credit of opening up and beating paths through the most barbarous of continents. Livingstone, man of peace and bearer of tidings of hope, did his exploring with his hands in his pockets. He did not bleed his way with gunpowder, and he left no trail of perfidy, because dead, natives in the wake.

If, for example, you are a woman and not the absolute slave of fashion, or one with so little mind as to be the slave of the fashion—words, if you actually make your own selection, you will Dr. Mahoney. Probably note that the gown you select tends to a certain predominant color—red, blue, gray, black and so on through the category of hues.

Rubbing It In

This likeness and likeness largely depend upon the emotion imparted by the different colors in the sense of vision. They are in a certain sense physiological and depend upon the development of structures in the eye, each set of which is adapted to the appreciation of a particular color.

This same development, however, is largely determined by habit. A habit comes as the result of repetition and association. A nervous person with a tendency to mental depression is always made worse by being kept in a room furnished in somber colors. Certain impressions are produced of this sort are caused by anger by diaphanous reds. The proverb about the effect of a red rose upon a mad bull is based on physiological fact.

It is your duty to yourself, in the interest of your happiness and your health, to derive pleasure from as many sources as possible. If one of these color sources has been taken from you from some such accidental association, by all means endeavor to overcome the resulting depression. This can best be done by forcing yourself into frequent contact with the color in question, and to do it under associations that otherwise will be agreeable.

In this way you can convert all of your color dislikes into likes, and this is the easiest means of increasing your resources of pleasure.

Mayor Curley's Flop on the Child Labor Amendment Should Cost Him the Election for Governor Next Month

IN the opinion of the Boston American nothing else so amazing has taken place in this unusual campaign as the about-face movement of James M. Curley on the proposed Child Labor amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

At the Democratic State Convention in Worcester, only one month since, Mr. Curley insisted to such good purpose on an out and out declaration IN FAVOR of the proposed amendment that the following plank was placed in the platform of party principles upon which the Mayor now is campaigning for the Governorship:

"That the interest of humane and liberal-minded States may not be put in jeopardy by those who are reactionary and heartless, we favor the adoption of the Child Labor amendment as a means of conserving the womanhood and the manhood of America, and to that end that child slavery shall be abolished, and that this vital purpose may be accomplished, WE FAVOR RATIFICATION BY MASSACHUSETTS OF THE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT TO THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION AND URGE A 'YES' VOTE AT THE ELECTION, ON REFERENDUM NO. 7."

The above plank is not merely one of the planks of the platform upon which Democratic candidates are asking for votes this year, but it is the FIRST of the planks. The remainder of this year's Democratic appeal is built around it.

Within one month after standing up for the young workers at Worcester, however, Mr. Curley turns upon the Child Labor amendment and denounces it.

He calls it "Bolshevistic."

He says it was "drafted by the former Miss Wischniewski, a professional Socialist, translator of Karl Marx, editor of the 'Archiv für Sozialgesetzgebung' at Berlin and president of the Intercollegiate Socialist League of the United States."

Well, that SOUNDS important and impressive and terrifying enough, but what are the facts?

First of all, the facts about the "Wischniewski" lady, who happens to have been born Kelley.

Florence Kelley is the daughter of the late William D. Kelley, for several years a Member of Congress from Philadelphia and so stout a champion of the tariff interests of the Pennsylvania iron men that he was called "Pig Iron" Kelley.

"Pig Iron's" daughter, after being graduated from Cornell University, married a physician of the name of Wischniewski. Their married life was short. Dr. Wischniewski is dead. Florence Kelley long ago resumed her maiden name. For twenty-five years she has been the efficient secretary of the Consumers' League.

Florence Kelley, however, did NOT draft the Child Labor amendment. In its final form it was written by the Reverend Ernest Johnson of the Federal Council of Churches.

It was referred to many prominent lawyers. It was championed by BOTH Senators from Massachusetts, Lodge and Walsh.

And what does it say? What is its intention? What will it do? On your ballot next month you will find Referendum No. 7, reading as follows:

"Is it desirable that the General Court (Massachusetts Legislature) ratify the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States?

"Section 1—The Congress shall have power to limit, regulate and prohibit the labor of persons under 18 years of age.

"Section 2—The power of the several States is unpreserved by this article except that the operation of State laws shall be suspended to the extent necessary to give effect to legislation enacted by the Congress."

Having been submitted to the States by a two-thirds vote of each of the houses of Congress, this amendment, in order to become a part of the Constitution, must be ratified by thirty-six States.

When adopted, it will enable Congress to make laws against the exploitation of childhood at premature or injurious labor.

Its adoption is necessary because two Supreme Court decisions have indicated that Congress is WITHOUT THE POWER to enact such legislation.

The FIRST Federal child labor statute was enacted by Congress in 1916.

Did you hear any cry THEN, about "Bolshevism"? The name had not been invented.

THAT law was declared unconstitutional two years later, by the United States Supreme Court.

A SECOND Federal law was passed in 1919, still without any yell of "Bolshevism."

THIS law was declared unconstitutional in 1922.

What are we going to do, in this country, when we come to this pass and still feel the need of national legislation?

What CAN we do, except try to amend the Constitution?

Congress passed two Child Labor laws, because State laws had proved inadequate.

Nine States have NO law prohibiting children under 14 from working in stores and factories.

OUR States do not protect children under 16 from night work.

THIRTY-FIVE States allow children to go to work without a common school education.

NINETEEN States do not make physical fitness for work a condition of employment.

And so it goes. In the United States, one child in every twelve—some States one child in every four—gainfully employed.

It is TIME for a Federal child labor law and the House of Representatives at Washington was right when, on April 26 last, it voted 21 to 69 to submit the proposed amendment to the country.

MR. CURLEY was right last month, when before a committee of the Democratic State Convention HE insisted upon a plank FAVORING ratification of the amendment, and calling upon Democrats to vote "YES."

But if Mr. Curley was right THEN he is wrong NOW and we are not surprised that the Central Labor Union of Holyoke has led the way in condemning this right-about-face of His Honor the Mayor and calling upon wage earners everywhere to "do all in their power to bring about his defeat" in his campaign for the governorship.

Nothing on our opinion, so forcibly shows the low estate to which the Democratic organization in Massachusetts has fallen as the failure of party leaders to bring Mr. Curley to task for his amazing about-face upon the party platform.

Mr. Curley's second administration has revealed him a very much improved Mayor of Boston. He is a likeable young man, of many splendid personal attributes. He has the best voice of all the presiding orators of New England.

In the face of his astounding reversal on this tremendously great and important question of the Child Labor amendment, however, the Boston American can desire nothing for Mr. Curley on Election Day except a defeat by such figures as will stand as a lesson to every other politician who is tempted to go back on the platform of his party.

And this plea for every other so-called democrat who permits himself to be misled by the propaganda that is being spread against the Child Labor amendment.

Thanks, Highwaymen

You Are Educators

The Government orders three thousand armored cars for the mails, because of numerous robberies. The cars will be proof against bullets and gas, with small slits for the guns of employees, and for ventilation.

That's all good news, for one of these days those three thousand armored cars may be very useful in case of war.

They should be made strong enough to resist pistol and rifle bullets and bullets of machine guns, and constructed so that they can be moved from one chassis to another when the chassis wears out, not junked with the chassis.

Our highwaymen will deserve thanks if they make a slumbering government wake up, and provide equipment that the country may need at any moment.

If some intelligent highwayman would kindly begin his operations in the air and force the United States to go into the building of fighting flying machines on a big scale, that air highwayman would be entitled to a monument from grateful countrymen.

A Mixed-Up Election

Governor Smith Can't Control His Friends

The national election may depend on the voting in New York State. Davis will have the South, undoubtedly. But La Follette will bother the Republicans in at least a dozen States in the North, with what result no one can guess.

In New York State the election will be complicated in many ways. The Rev. Norman Thomas, nominated for Governor by the Socialists, accuses Al Smith, Democratic nominee for Governor, of making deals, agreeing to throw Democratic votes to La Follette in exchange for La Follette votes for Smith. If that were true it would be of course give the State to Coolidge. Al Smith says it ISN'T true, and that he ISN'T "kissing Davis."

But not even Al Smith himself, an experienced politician, can tell or dictate what his following will do.

Bitterness caused by the religious discussion in the Democratic convention has not died out. Al Smith's friends feel that Davis benefited by the fact, as they believe that Al Smith was denied the nomination because he was a Catholic.

It is a curiously mixed-up election, in which the regular Democratic nominee for Governor is obliged, officially, to deny that he is kissing the Democratic nominee for President.

THE USE OF FORCE IN STRIKES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

STRIKES are pure barbarism. They are an application of force. Not force on the guilty party, but force applied to a third party who has nothing to do with the case.

When a man has a financial difference with his neighbor he does not try to get payment by being offensive to his neighbor's wife and children or puncturing the tires of the village physician's automobile or going around shooting up the butcher and baker who have nothing to do with the matter.

But when Labor and Capital fall out they each begin to abuse the public and hope by this means to secure their rights.

Every other kind of dispute between men and groups is taken before a court of law. The question is examined according to well-known rules of evidence and the only force in the case is used to compel acquiescence and results.

But in disputes between employer and employe it is supposed to be the thing to do to abuse the public. Of course that may be the only means of bringing the condition of the laborer home to us and making us realize what long hours and low wages are, but it is a poor means.

It shows that so far the business world has not found itself and the rule of law and order is not complete in business. For, when it is complete, a man who is aggrieved can take his grievance before the proper tribunal and have it settled. He is not compelled to take his pistol and run amok through the streets.

There was a recent strike at Covent Garden, in London. When it was finally settled the workmen went back at about the same rates they had been getting. The curious spectacle was presented of a strike throwing thousands out of employment taking place at the same time that Great Britain is complaining of its unemployed classes.

If the workers want the sympathy of the general public they will have to get it in some other way than by the use of force.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

He is the best bred and the truest gentleman who takes leave of the world without a stain upon his conscience, and with nothing of falsehood and dissimulation of luxury or pride to tarnish his reputation.

Nothing is more simple than greatness. Indeed, to be simple is to be great.

Solitude is the nurse of enthusiasm, and enthusiasm is the true parent of genius. In all ages confident security.

He who distinguishes well, learns well.

Better be despised for too anxious apprehensions than ruined by too confident security.
